HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

The "Koffee Klatch" for the March of Dimes was a popular event in Peninsula homes Monday morning. In fact, it was general throughout the county.

Solana Beach, however, was different. There the party was called a "Koffee Klutch," according to its local newspaper..

Both the headline and the story called it a "Klutch," so I know that's what it was. Well, the good ladies may have "klutched" their coffee cups tightly, but undoubtedly they turned loose as many dimes as anybody else.

Si Casady, editor of the El Cajon Valley News, enjoys harpooning his opposite number on the La Mesa Scout.

He writes an entertaining column and his sheet certainly is more lively than the La Mesa paper. But I'm afraid Si is fighting a losing battle when he tilts his lance against La Mesa.

An impartial observer atop Point Loma—that's me—would take La Mesa every time over El Cajon.

If I lived in La Mesa, however, I'd read the El Cajon Valley News.

Hi, Si!

Well, my blast against Truth or Consequences, N. M., last week flushed Charlie Byrne from his hideout at 4770 Soria Dr.

He wrote: "Spence, you cad! "You are speaking in a most uncomplimentary manner of the glorious county seat of Sierra County, of which there is no native son more nativer than I. Please watch your language in the future . . . Reproachfully, Charlie."

* * *

In last week's Peninsula News we featured a photo of two Indians, complete with feathers, tom tom and peace pipe, who were scheduled to dance at a local club meeting.

I liked the photo fine, except that Chief Running Elk's regalia included a wristwatch.

It reminds me of the time Recruiting Sgt. "Breezy" Turner of the Marine Base flushed a young Sioux from the ranks and phoned the City Desk of my newspaper.

This was along about 1941, before Pearl Harbor. "Breezy" procured a war bonnet and an Indian suit for the young Sioux, Stephen Yellow Hair, "great-grandson of Sitting Bull," and we took a picture of him toasting a hunk of meat over an open fire.

* * *

Well, the day after the photo appeared in the paper, an old soldier popped into the office with a tale about the Sioux campaign of 1890-91.

His infantry outfit, marching through deep snow in the South Dakota badlands, struck a windfall of turkeys and pigs. They killed the pigs with rocks and had a big Christmas dinner; on Dec. 29 they missed the Battle of Wounded Knee by 13 miles.

I asked him about the story that women and children were killed by the troops.

He said, "I don't think they were. But if so, it was done accidentally."

(The Encyclopedia Brittanica says that "resistance to an attempt to disarm a large party of Indians at Wounded Knee creek resulted in a deplorable massacre, in which many women and children were killed.")

Stephen Yellow Hair, the young Sioux at the Marine Base, was born near Wounded Knee Creek . . . I've often wondered how he made out during World War II.

Teenagers Organize Jr. Theatre Branch

Fifty-four teenagers met Sunday in Balboa Park and organized a teenage branch of San Diego Junior Theatre.

Phil Clark, 9th grade Dana student, was elected president. The club, as yet unnamed, will meet the second and fourth Monday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock in the Junior Theatre room in Balboa Park Club building.

Mrs. Fraser Macpherson, president of the Junior Theatre, said the teenage club members will learn to handle all phases of staging a play. "On Jan. 23 the group will study make-up and members will actually practice putting make-up on each other," Mrs. Macpherson said.

The season's special project will be staging a melodrama in May, according to Mrs. C. Norman Hicks, assistant executive director.

O. B. Chamber Installs New Officers, Directors

Indications that 1956 will be a banner year in Ocean Beach were given Saturday night at Kona Kai Club when new officers and directors of the O. B. Chamber of Commerce were installed. Present at the gala dinner-dance were more than 100 Chamber members, wives and guests.

William (Bill) Knopp, new president, assured the gathering that he would continue to work for the betterment of Ocean Beach.

Knopp and other officers and directors were installed by Vice-Mayor Clair Burgener. David H. R. Pain, local attorney, was master of ceremonies, and also the recipient of the Ocean Beach "Citizen of the Year" award for 1955, presented by County Supervisor Frank Gibson.

Pain did outstanding work on the Beach Improvement Committee last year and performed many other voluntary time-consuming services for the community.

The beautiful Mayor's Trophy, awarded to the O. B. Chamber for its winning float in the recent Toyland Parade in North Park, was presented to the Chamber by Roy Parker, executive secretary of the North Park Business Club. It is on display in the window of the Chamber office, 1918 Bacon St.

Seated at the speakers' table and introduced to the gathering were Luella Webb, Miss Ocean Beach; Mrs. Burgener, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Pain and Mrs. Knopp.

Chamber Committees Named for '56

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce committees for 1956 were appointed at a meeting Tuesday in King's Cafe. They are as follows:

Beach Improvement—H. J. La Dou, chairman; David H. R. Pain; Frank Owen, Dr. Seymour Kuntz and William Knopp.

Membership—Jules Joniaux, chairman; Zita Akey and Dr. Winton B. Oster.

Daz-O-Fun — James Noel, chairman, and Joe Richardson.

Parking — Russell Bement, chairman; Jesse Bailey and Les Wheatley.

Budget — Elizabeth Mathews, chairman; Vera Beardsley and Joseph J. Kenneally.

Public relations — Frank Owen, chairman, and H. J. La Dou.

Welcome — Frank Allen, chairman; Jules Joniaux and Bud Overby.

Publicity and Program — Dr. Winton B. Oster, chairman.

CHILDREN'S CONCERT SERIES STARTS SATURDAY AT RUSS

A series of four children's concerts sponsored by the San Diego Symphony, the first of which will take place Saturday, January 21, 10:30 a.m. at the Russ Auditorium was announced today by Mrs. Fred G. Goss, Symphony president.

Miss Pauline Des Granges has been named chairman of the concerts, Mrs. Goss said, which will be produced in close cooperation with the San Diego City and County schools so that the programs will complement the excellent instruction already being offered there.

Daniel Lewis, assistant conductor under Robert Shaw of the San Diego Symphony will act as conductor for the concert series, Miss Des Granges said, and Dr. Alex Zimmerman, music director of the San Diego City Schools, will be commentator.

Program for the first concert will honor the 200th anniversary of Wolfgang Mozart whose date of birth was January 27, 1756, and accordingly will be composed of a selection of his works. The program will begin with the "Overture to the Magic Flute," and be followed by the "Concerto in D Major for Piano and Orchestra," with 12-year-old Mary Kay Emery as soloist at the piano. Third number will be "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" for string instruments, followed by the "Minuet from the E flat Symphony." "The Finale to Symphony in G Minor, number 40" will conclude the presentation.

Mary Kay Emery is an extremely talented young pianist, and will perform through the cooperation of Local 325 AFM.

"The Children's Concert Series will employ a full orchestra of between 60 and 65 musicians," Miss Des Granges said. "All of them are members of San Diego's Symphony Orchestra."

March Of Dimes

San Diego County's March of Dimes was going strong on the Peninsula this week. Pat Thienes, San Diego's 71-year-old "Walking Man," arrived in Ocean Beach Tuesday morning and was met by a local delegation.

Meeting Thienes at the Bank of America were Dick Swanson, O. B. March of Dimes chairman; Bill Knopp, Chamber of Commerce president and Kiwanis Club member; and Russ Wilson and Art Gomez of Kiwanis.

The March of Dimes containers in O. B. are filling up with change and folding money, Wilson reported.

Thienes, hiking for the polio campaign, will end his long walk through the county next Tuesday morning at 1265 Sixth Ave., where he will light a three-foot candle.

TEACHING CONFERENCE

Nineteen city schools' staff members, including two from the Peninsula area, have been selected to attend the fifth annual Midyear Conference on Good Teaching Jan. 27-28 at USC.

Robert Exter, Dana Junior High, and Charles Webster, Ocean Beach School, are the local representatives.

Camp Fire Girls Near Half-Way Mark In Sale

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls in the Point Loma-Ocean Beach area will hit the half-way mark in their annual peanut sale this week-end.

The young peanut vendors in this district are part of a county-wide sales team of 2500 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls who are redoubling their efforts to reach their goal of 100,000 cans of peanuts sold by Jan. 29, when the sale ends.

Mrs. Robert Hoover, who heads the sale activity in this area, reports that early returns from headquarters indicate that the girls set a fast pace with their sales the opening days of the venture.

AMERICANS LOSING FREEDOMS SAYS OCEAN BEACH MINISTER

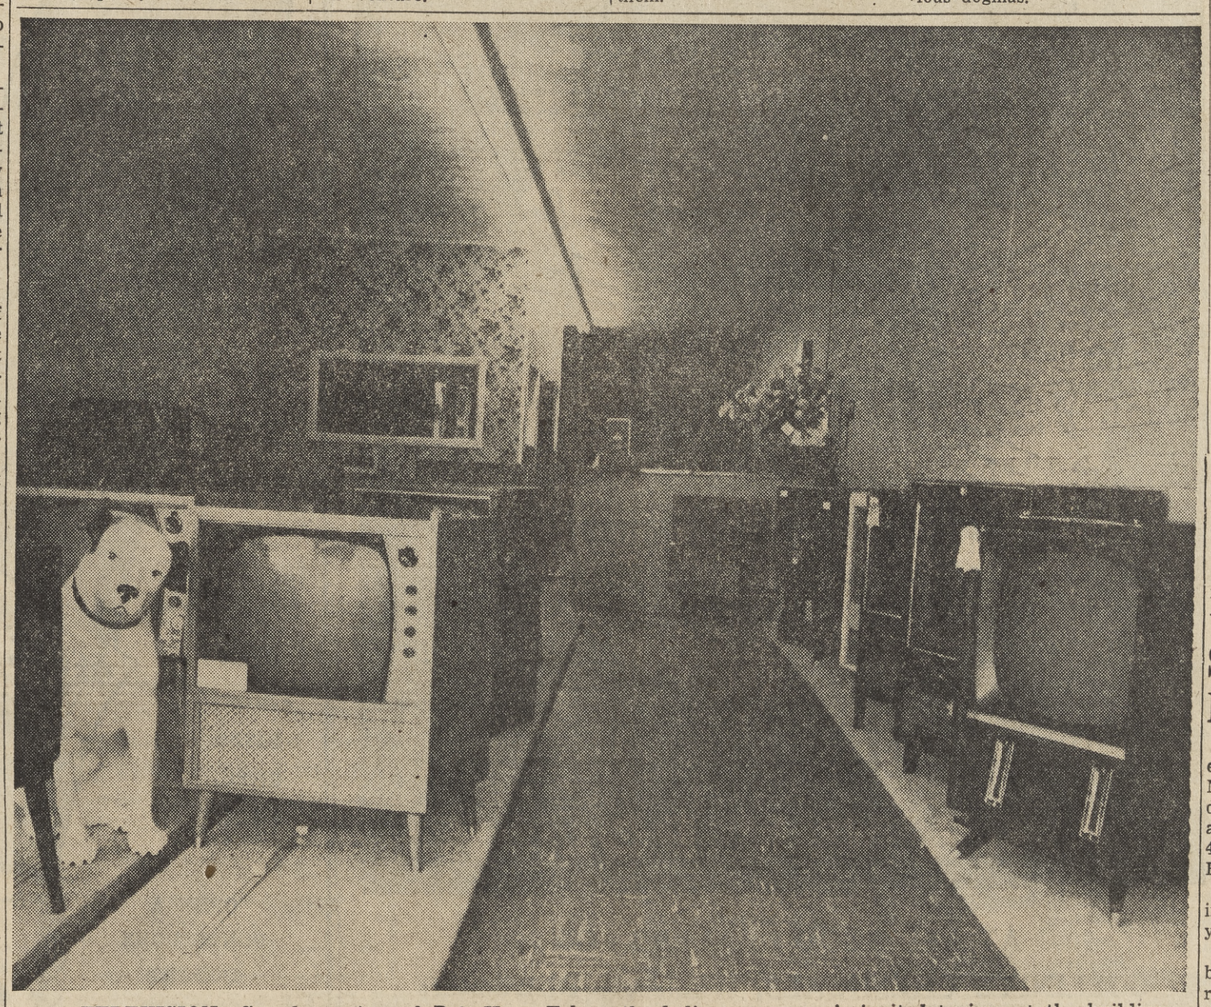
"Americans are slowly losing their freedoms."

This opinion was stated here today by Pastor R. E. Delafield, of the Ocean Beach Seventh-day Adventist Church. The minister will devote his Sabbath sermon Saturday morning, January 21, to a study of threats to major freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution.

He announced also that he will call on the congregation to support a nation-wide fund-raising campaign which the Adventist General Conference has inaugurated. Thousands of dollars are to be used in an educational program throughout the United States "to help citizens learn the threats to their freedoms and how they can preserve them."

In stating his plans, the Adventist minister cited increased agitation in some quarters for Sunday laws. "This is a direct threat to the freedom of religion guaranteed to all Americans by the Constitution. Religious freedom has been one of the big factors making this nation the greatest in the world," Pastor Delafield said.

"When religious leaders resort to civil law for the enforcement of a day of rest, the religious leaders are admitting that the church has failed in its job of leading people to worship God as an act of devotion and respect.. There will be nothing but chaos and danger produced by civil laws respecting enforcement of religious dogmas."



TELEVISION—Grand opening of Bob Horn Television in its new modern building at 1865 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., just off Newport Ave., is set for Saturday, Jan. 21, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. There will be free orchids for the ladies; everyone is invited to inspect the building, including a complete new Hi-Fi Sound Room. TV factory representatives will be present.

O. B. Lioness Club To Install New Officers Tuesday

The Ocean Beach Lioness Club will install Mrs. Lee Coley as 1956 president when formal ceremonies are held January 24.

Other officers to be installed are Mrs. Lester Husbands, first vice-president; Mrs. Leonard Van Stelle, second vice-president; Mrs. George Celeste, secretary; Mrs. Charles Edwards, treasurer.

Mrs. Roscoe Griswold, president of the La Jolla Lioness Club, will be the installing officer, and Mrs. Edwards will be the hostess for the meeting. All members are urged to attend.

A Christmas gift exchange and party took place when the club met at the home of Mrs. Lee Coley December 27. A short business meeting was held and a report heard from the Ways and Means Committee on the club's project of Christmas baskets for the needy. Since this is a newly-organized club, there is quite a feeling of pride that such a project was possble, and made a success through the efforts of every member.

Mrs. Coley adjourned the business meeting, then made a surprise presentation of a gift to Mrs. Ruth Campbell for her new son. The rest of the evening was spent socially and at the close the hostess served refreshments.

Formal Opening

Formal opening of C. L. Dersch, Jeweler, at his new location, 4952 Newport Ave., Ocean Beach, will be held Saturday, Jan. 21.

Free valuable prizes were announced for the formal opening —"no purchase necessary."

Services Held For Mrs. Aird

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine E. Aird, 83, of 4495 Niagara Ave., were held Monday at Rogers Mortuary under auspices of Estrella Chapter 412, OES, Burial was at Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery.

Mrs. Rogers, who had resided in the Ocean Beach area for 34 years, died Jan. 5.

She is survived by her husband, Thomas Henry Aird, a retired naval metalsmith; a daughter, Mrs. Audrey Winchell, wife of a Navy commander on Guam, and a grandson, Gilbert A. Hays.

Pt. Loma To Play At Kearny Friday

Defeated Tuesday night by Lincoln, 54-35, Point Loma High School's basketball team is scheduled to play Kearny there Friday night in another CPL League game.

Bob Mendoza of Lincoln was high-point man Tuesday night, with 15, Huntington scored 6 for Point Loma, with the rest of the local points being well distributed among the players. Lincoln used 14 men and the Lomans 11.

Henderson Enters Caliente Open

Lew Henderson, of 3756 Dupont St., is an entrant in the 72-hole, $12,500 Caliente Open Golf Tournament which was scheduled to start today and run through Sunday.

A local resident for two years, Henderson has been golfing 34 years and shoots in the low 70's. He was golf pro at the Riverside Country Club, Grand Island, Neb., and at the Alliance, Neb., Country Club, and played the pro circuit during 1946-52. As an amateur, he was runner-up for the Nebraska state title in 1936.

Top Award Won By Food Basket

Competing against 2000 super markets throughout the United States, Food Basket Super Markets has been named top award winner for agricultural service by McCall's magazine and the Super Market Institute, Gerald A. Awes, Food Basket president, said the award was received for the Food Basket's 2-page Thanksgiving newspaper advertisement.

Food Basket has recevied major awards in the annual competition for the last four years, Awes said. The firm's advertising agency is The Phillips-Ramsey Company.

Five of the San Diego-owned Food Baskets are now in operation, with a sixth store, in Chula Vista, scheduled to open later.

Point Loma's new Food Basket store at Catalina and Talbot was first opened on January 3.

RUMMAGE SALE SAT.

A rummage sale will be held by the Peninsula Woman's Club Saturday, Jan. 21, at 9 a.m. in Wallace Hall, Trinity Episcopal Church, 2083 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. Mrs. Fred Foster is chairman. Proceeds will go to charities.

Peninsula PERSONALITIES

By AVIS STONE

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd of Lotus St., served as setting for a festive reunion recently when two of Mr. Boyd's brothers paid a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Boyd came from Riverside for a few days stay, and traveling from Albuquerque, New Mexico, were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Boyd and their son Kenneth Jr. The latter family has taken a liking to this area and is now making its home in the 4400 block on Niagara Ave.

Debbie Peck of 5134½ Long Branch Ave. has put aside her dolls lately in favor of watching a real live baby sister. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peck welcomed their 6 lb. 12 oz. girl, Karen Sue Jan 7, at Quintard Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick DiMeglio of 4631 Voltaire are the happy parents of a 6 lb. 15 oz. baby girl, born Dec. 6 at Sharp Memorial Hospital. They have named the newcomer Deborah Anne.

Louise Cochran, who at one time operated a real estate business on Sunset Cliffs Blvd., has returned to this area after a six-year absence. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran and their two children, Diane and Little Joe, arrived here from Mississippi and hope to be settled soon in their newly purchased home on Green Street.

Donald H. Stansifer, W6LRU, head of Silvergate Amateur Radio Club, has been nominated by club member David Grobecker as a candidate for the 1955 Edison Amateur Radio Award.

This award is given yearly in recognition of public service rendered to the community or for some important work done by an amateur radio worker in the public interest.

There will be a trip with all expenses paid to a large metropolitan area, presumably Washington, D. C., where the winner will be presented a $500 cash award.

This is a nation-wide event and so far, of the 32 names submitted, 8 are from Northern California, with Stansifer being the only entrant from this area.

Mr. Stansifer, who resides at 4427 Pescadero, teaches Radio and Electricity at Dana Jr. High. The Silvergate Amateur Radio Club to which Stansifer serves as advisor, is sponsored by the Downtown Optimists and has an avearge of 20 members, all from this area, and honorary memberships are granted as members graduate from Point Loma High.

WASHINGTON Letter

By BOB WILSON

Member of Congress

Well. the second session of the 84th Congress is now a three-week-old baby.

Much of the time so far in the session has been devoted to plugging for legislation which will help to pull San Diego's tuna fishing out of the doldrums.

First off, I introduced a bill which has the backing of most of the tuna fishermen, I believe, and which would give the industry a voice in the federal government it never has had.

To get most major legislation through Congress, you need the approval—or at least the absence of an objection—from the White House. So the other day I made a luncheon date with some of the President's aides and between bites we talked over the tuna situation.

Even when you're there on business, it's a pleasant experience having luncheon at the White House. At the luncheon were Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower and sometimes called "assistant President"; Earl Chesney, Bryce Harlow and Murray Snyder, all aides to the Chief Executive.

* * *

Later, I discussed the tuna industry bill at length with Harlow, who was chief clerk of the House Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, before he went to the White House.

Adams is widely known as a conservative New Englander who says "no" five times for every "yes". But he's a pleasant man to talk with and just what the President needs in the way of a buffer.

It's too early to tell whether my bill will get a nod from the Budget Bureau and the various other administration agencies which must pass on it. But the White House talk proved one thing: administration officials are interested and are gathering a working knowledge of the problems confronting one of San Diego's chief industries and one of its oldest.

* * *

The Washington weather of the last few weeks has been great for polar bears and penguins but pretty rough on us human beings.

The month of December brought record low temperatures and the other night we had an ice storm which left the streets and sidewalks in fine shape for a skating party but not much use to pedestrians or motorists.

Like most others around here, I managed to do a nose dive on my front walk before the welcome thaw finally came. Hundreds were treated for injuries from falls but I did manage to stay out of the hospital.

So next time you have a little fog or drizzle, thank your lucky stars you don't have to take up figure skating just to get out to your garage in the morning.

Richard Swink, former resident and well known musician of this area, has moved with his family to Hermosa Beach, where he is presently employed by an aircraft industry.

Among newcomers to the Peninsula are two former Escondido families, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, who at present are making their home in the 4600 block on Santa Monica, and Mr. and Mrs. John Pelkey, who are pleased with their newly purchased home on Famosa Blvd. The four Pelkey children, Catherine, Clayton, John Jr. and Caryol are kept busy helping their parents get settled in the new surroundings.

Four more names have been added to the fast growing list of families who are busily engaged in getting settled in their own homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Holloway have just recently moved into their home in the 4400 block on Pt. Loma Blvd. The family formerly resided on Del Mar Ave. and quite some time ago decided to make their permanent residence in the area. The Holloways have four children, Sandra, 10; Judy, 6; Bobby 3, and Steve, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolmon Spinks and their two children, Catherine 3, and David 2, have moved from Jarvis St. into their own home on Moana Drive.

Comdr. USN and Mrs. John Miller ,have moved into their home in the 4300 block of Niagara, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Teter and their young son David, moved into their home in the 4900 block of Narragansett Ave.

Door Of Hope Guild To Give Tea Honoring Capt. Vivian Johnson

The Door of Hope Home Guild will entertain at a farewell tea honoring Capt. Vivian Johnson at the Home on Bolinas St. from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Capt. Johnson has been the superintendent of the Salvation Army Door of Hope Home since November, 1950, and is now preparing to leave for Los Angeles, where she will take over superintendent duties at the Booth Memorial Home.

In an interview, Capt. Johnson said, "A program like ours depends upon teamwork, and the Door of Hope could not begin to meet the needs of the people it serves without the tremendous help given by individuals and organizations."

The major problem of the Home at present is the need for space. Built to accomodate 18 women, it is today housing 30. As a Community Chest agency, the budget does not include allowances for equipment, surgical supplies, or other items needed within the Home and these are the things that are provided by clubs and organizations.

Capt. Johnson, a social worker, received her training from the Salvation Army School in San Francisco and the University of Southern California. She served as administrative assistant of the Booth Memorial Home in Portland.

Superintendent's duties of the local agency will be taken over by Senior Capt. Gwen Carruthers, who comes from the Booth Memorial Home in Spokane, Washington.

'Women In Air Age' Topic At AAUW

"Women in the Air Age" will be the subject of a talk by Lydia Van Zandt, foreign correspondent, at a meeting of the San Diego branch. American Association of University Women, today, Jan. 19, at 8 p.m. at the San Diego Women's Club.

The wife of Dr. J. Parker Van Zandt, internationally known aviation specialist, Mrs. Van Zandt recently has interviewed women members of the French and British parliaments and women leaders in the West German Federal Republic. She comes directly from her home in Paris.

Six San Diego women who have been winners of the "Woman of the Year" award will be special guests. They are: Mrs. Kathryn Niehouse, Mrs. Belle Benchley, Miss Marie M. Herney, Mrs. John L. Burkholder, Miss Madge Bradley and Miss Clara E. Breed.

Nominees for the 1955 "Woman of the Year" award will be introduced by the branch president, Mrs. Melvin F. Godwin. Mrs. Edward M. Little, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Assisting in serving tea will be Miss Lois L. Bailey, new member from this area. Mrs. William D. Jones will help provide decorations. Members will be able to greet the six former award winners when they rotate as pourers during tea hour.

VOTE OF THANKS

The Dorcas Welfare Society of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church wish to express their appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation by the ladies of the local WCTU during the past week to meet the urgent call for bedding, warm garments, shoes, etc., to be rushed for flood relief to northern California.

FIREBALL—At four a.m. every morning a light goes on in Max Nelsons' home at 3220 Alcott St. It's time for Mrs. Nelson to work on her book about her life and family. "It's the only time I can write," says the petite blonde mother of three, who also is a dynamic worker in Loma Portal Girl Scouting and PTA.

"The story begins when I was nine and my father was burned to death when our house burned down. Mother took over the job of rearing the family. At one time there were five of the six children in college and during World War II five of us were in the armed forces. The story has humor and pathos," said Mrs. Nelson.

"It's real funny," chimed-in nine year old daughter, Claudia. "Mamma read a chapter to Daddy and me at breakfast this morning."

HEARD AND LIKED—Jim Work, a sheriff's deputy and father of four, introduced his cute teenage daughter, Barbara, to a group of guests thusly: "Barbara, we have a lot of people here. People, here we have Barbara."

HITHER, THITHER, YON—Success to the Camp Fire Girls whose clever designs made with unshelled peanuts adorn the posters advertising their annual sale in Ocean Beach store windows.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Olson, 1576 Catalina Blvd., won the door prize, a pair of lovely brass lamps, when they were guests at a Lions' Club dance on January 7. That date just happened to be the Olson's wedding anniversary.

SAW AND LIKED—There's a new "Do It Yourself" kit on the market. It's a book, a mystery—you write the last chapter yourself!

LOS FELICES CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

The Los Felices Club will hold its monthly meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moore, 4863 Circle Drive, the evening of January 21.

Guests will be Gabriel Silva, consul of Ecuador; Mrs. Wolcott Ammon, Mr. & Mrs. A. Rodriquez, Mr. & Mrs. A. Figueroa, and Enrique Avila of Peru who is at the Scripps Institute on a Guggenheim grant. He is to give a talk in Spanish on his native land and also on his present work.

S.D. Branch, AAUW Sets Movie Night

Three sound and color movies will be shown at the second Movie Night of the San Diego branch, American Association of University Women, Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 8 p.m. at the AAUW clubhouse, 208 W. Juniper St.

The movies are: "So Shall My Island," the story of Japan; "Native Flowering Plants of California," showing 30 varieties of plants of the woods, foothills, islands and valleys; "Red Wagon," the story of the life of G. F. Swift, depicting his struggle to establish a meat retailing business and now better retailing practices have evolved.

Mrs. Daniel Bjornstad, chairman of the motion picture committee, will be assisted during the social hour by Mmes. Bennie L. Grondona, Arthur C. Harris, Gene McCormack and William Arthur Snell. Mrs. Charles J. Marshall is refreshment chairman.

School Art Exhibit Starts February 9

Creative talents of students in the city's junior and senior high schools will be on display in a major month-long art exhibit opening Feb. 9 in the Fine Arts Gallery in Balboa Park.

"Art '56," as the exhibit will be designated, will be the first extensive public showing of school are in several years. Superintendent Ralph Dailard and Margaret Erdt, city schools supervisor of art, cooperated with Warren Beach, Fine Arts Gallery director, in arranging the show, which will occupy three display rooms.

Organization of the show and selection of student work to be exhibited has been under way since last May. Already approximately 150 examples of student paintings, drawings and craft work have been selected for exhibition.

Betty Quayle, Dana Junior High, is hospitality chairman. J. Milford Ellison, Pt. Loma Hgh, heads the publicity committee.

Dr. Aseltine Discusses Dickens At O. B. Woman's Club Meeting

By MARIAN KRETTLER

The book review section of the local Woman's Club had a special treat Monday evening, Jan. 9, when Dr. John Aseltine came to speak on Dickens and his works.

Dr. Aseltine is a Dickens enthusiast and recently he and his wife had the joy of going to England for participation in a Dickens festival. They met members of the celebrated author's family and returned home with many memoirs of the occasion, which the good Doctor Aseltine displayed for his interested audience.

Like that of the bard, William Shakespeare, the fame of Dickens will never die in England and Dr. Aseltine brought him home to the club attendance.

Thursday, Mrs. Frank Wherry, State Chairman of Education for Federated Women, spoke of her personal experiences as an attendant at the recent educational forum conducted in Washington.

Kathryn Hunter, with her piano accompanist, Mrs. Leta Emcke, arrived with her wonderful imitations of bird songs. We could hear the winged creatures of forests and canyons when Mrs. Hunter whistled. She, with her husband, Don, is the owner of our Rosecroft gardens.

Program chairman, Mrs. Ralph Stothard, introduced the speakers and, in attendance, were five members of the "Chalk Dusters" Club from Point Loma High School.

President, Mrs. George Kenline, and literary chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hunter presided at the beautifully appointed table. Those cute sandwiches were intriguing. I ate too many of them. Jean Swan, Vera Beardsley and Maisie Spencer provided the goodies, and it was an indication that Vera, who has been very ill, was recuperating when she came over to assist in the preparation for a gala occasion.

Tuesday, January 31, the Ocean Beach Woman's Club will feature two card parties to which everyone is welcome. In the afternoon, canasta or such other games preferred will be played. In the evening, bridge will be featured. The price is 75 cents per corner and the players may arrive at any time after 12:30 .pm.

The Art department will meet at 10 a.m. January 25, after foregoing the December session.

Free Concert Sat. At Public Library

A concert by the Woodwind Quintet of Local 325, American Federation of Musicians, will be given at the San Diego Public Library, 8th Avenue and E St., gram will begin at 3 p.m. and wil. be in the Lecture room on Saturday, January 21. The pro- the third floor.

The concert is under the joint sponsorship of the City-County Music Commission and the Trust Funds of the Recording industries, obtained through Local 325.

Members of the quintet are Frederick Baker, flutist and leader of the group; Daniel Magnusson, clarinet; Floyd M. Grant, oboe; Richard Powers, horn, and Earl Leason, bassoon. Baker and Magnusson are music teachers in the San Diego city system, and Grant holds a similar position in the Chula Vista schools. All five are members of the San Diego Symphony.

There will be no admission charge.

Teen-Age Traffic Conference Set

Teen-agers of San Diego City and County will hold the Third Annual Teen-age Traffic Safety Conference in the Balboa Park Conference Building, March 2.

Staged to promote methods of reducing the traffic accident rate among teen-age drivers, the Conference will be attended by junior and senior high school students from public, private and parochial schools.

More than 500 students are expected to participate in this year's Conference. M. R. Darling, Jr., Executive Director, Inter-Industry Traffic Safety Committee, Washington, D. C., has been invited to address the opening session.

Rock Cod Banks Produce Sport For Fishermen

In spite of an over-abundance ot early morning fog off and on this week, deep sea anglers continued to make hay on the rock cod banks west of Point Loma—favored by sunshine or without it.

At times, strong undercurrents made it difficult to keep bait near the bototm, but anglers easily solved that difficulty by adding on a bit more lead and usually were rewarded with good catches of red cod, chilipeppers ,and some big cow cod and ling.

Noticeable improvement in fishing conditions early this week was reflected in better all-around catches and more big fish. One of the largest cow cod of the week proved to be a 23½ pounder caught by R. E. Swope, Arcadia, but others nearly as large were taken by Bob Williams, La Jolla, M. D. Caldwell, National City, H. W. Cummings, Chula Vista, and John Mead, Ocean Beach.

The canyon nine miles west of Point Loma proved to be the hot fishing spot of the week, and also claimed one other big attraction. It was on the edge of the gray whale migration, and anglers often found that they had grandstand seats for that spectacle.

At the same time, sportfishing boats operating from the Municipal Sportfishing Pier continued to seek out the giant mammals for the benefit of spectators and photographers, who welcomed the chance to snap them at close range. Daily whale trips are scheduled at 10 a.m., 12:30, and 3 p.m. as long as the migration continues.

ALPHA PHI SORORITY

The home of Mrs. Thomas R. Gay, 2555 Locust in Loma Portal, will be the scene of an Alpha Phi sorority alumnae luncheon Saturday, January 21 at 12:30 p.m.

A general report on the annual benefit bridge fashion show planned for February 25 will be presented by co-chairmen, Mrs. William Lance and Mrs. John M. Graham who is Mrs. Donald McCredie.

Chairman of the luncheon is being assisted by Mmes. John B. Clark, Valentine Parker, W. M. Coates, Jack Levitt, William Gauss, John D. Shilling, Nick J. Nicholas, G. William Kettenburg, Helen Rand and Miss Mary Louise Howes.

ORDER OF AMARANTH

Pacific Beach Court 104, Order of the Amaranth, will hold their regular business meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the Point Loma Masonic Temple, 1711 Sunset Cliffs.

Royal Matron Marie June Buirch and Royal Patron Charles H. Ludlow will preside. In lieu of an after-Court party a dinner will be served by the Social Club of the Order beginning at 6 p.m. All members and friends are invited to attend the dinner.
